

Quest Class

We are the Quest class and that's what we do. We spend time on various topics getting to know more about our faith by studying different aspects of the Bible. Presently we are finishing Philip Yancey's book, The Jesus I Never Knew. During this study we have watched video clips, searched and discussed both the Old and New Testaments learning more about who Jesus is. This study has helped us learn about the climate of Palestine at the time Jesus was living there, the government of Rome and the hopes of the Jewish peoples during this period of history. We have come across some interesting areas we plan to carefully explore, such as the feasts and festivals Jesus observed while he was on earth and how Christians understand the Old Testament. Since the OT was so important to Jesus and to the early Christians, we are going to look at Jesus' teachings in the New Testament in light of the Bible they used.

We are a group of seekers on a quest to know Christ so that we may help make him known to others. Our class is composed of both singles and couples in their thirties and older. We embrace the diversity of ages, ideas, and knowledge that leads to wonderful discussions.

Come join us sometime. We'd love to have you participate in our Quest!
